the relationship between migration and development is becoming an important field of study yet the fundamentals analytical tools conceptual framework political stance are not being called into question or dialogue this volume provides a valuable alternative perspective to the current literature as the contributors explore the contradictory discourses about migration and the role these discourses play in perpetuating inequality and a global regime of militarized surveillance the assumptions surrounding the asymmetrical transfers of resources that accompany migration are deeply skewed and continue to reflect the interests of the most powerful states and the institutions that serve their interests those who seek to address the morass of development failure vitriolic attacks on immigrants or sanguine views about migrant agency are challenged by this volume to put aside their methodological nationalism and pursue alternative pathways out of the quagmire of poverty violence and fear that is enveloping the globe

this book examines current policy discussions around the migration development nexus and subjects them to rigorous conceptual and empirical criticism through a transnational lens placing the current re discovery of migrants as agents of development nexus into theoretical and historical perspective increasing interconnections between nation states across borders have rendered the transnational a key tool for understanding our world it has made particularly strong contributions to immigration studies and holds great promise for deepening insights into international migration this is the first book to provide an accessible yet rigorous overview of transnational migration as experienced by family and kinship groups networks of entrepreneurs diasporas and immigrant associations as well as defining the core concept it explores the implications of transnational migration for immigrant integration and its relationship to assimilation by examining its political economic social and cultural dimensions the authors capture the distinctive features of the new immigrant communities that have reshaped the ethno cultural mix of receiving nations including the us and western europe importantly the book also examines the effects of transnationality on sending communities viewing migrants as agents of political and economic development this systematic and critical overview of transnational migration perfectly balances theoretical discussion with relevant examples and cases making it an ideal book for upper level students covering immigration and transnational relations on sociology political science and globalization courses higher education has embraced a period of increasingly rapid development due to the speed of technological advances increased global competition an ever more astute and savvy consumer base and ethical planetary responsibilities one such educational development is transnational education the global pandemic has made the a timely topic because traditional international education which relies on the mobility of staff and students experienced unprecedented challenges with borders closed and travel banned this has presented the international education community with a unique opportunity to reassess the effectiveness and efficiency of transnational activities from a social ethical and environmental perspective the handbook of research on developments and future trends in transnational higher education offers a perspective of what the future of the may look like what models of the there are its impact and what institutions may have to do to be successful moving forward universities around the world are growing their the partnerships this reference book explores the benefits the can offer universities staff and students while increasing its global outlook and capabilities it further provides concrete suggestions to readers considering this covering topics such as employability skill enhancement formative assessment and online higher education this major reference work is an excellent resource for faculty and administrators of higher education teacher educators entrepreneurs researchers librarians and academicians
