originally published in 1968 this book was for every parent who had ever wondered what goes on in my child's school whom do i ask what do i ask and dare i ask and for every teacher who had ever thought how can i get closer to parents and enlist their aid in what i am trying to teach at the time lawrence green was a junior school head teacher with long experience in the deprived areas of a large city and had two children at school his articles on parent teacher cooperation in the magazine where aroused very wide interest and led to reviews in the national press and appearances on the bbc and itv requests for details of his two way reports in which parents were invited to give the school a picture of the child at home were received from all over the world this is a practical and deeply felt book a living illustration of the kind of cooperation which could make the plowden report a reality it deals frankly with the difficulties of starting and maintaining links between home and school but describes the kind of success which could be achieved the intention was that it should be read by all who cared about education and wanted to cross the line which too often separated parent and teacher at the time today it can be read in its historical context

a little guide for teachers engaging parents and carers with schools builds on author experience and findings from the spotlight thrown on home school relationships during covid 19 to provide teachers with effective strategies to enhance these relationships and instill confidence in teachers working with parents the little guide for teachers series is little in size but big on all the support and inspiration you need to navigate your day to day life as a teacher authored by experts in the field easy to dip in and out of interactive activities encourage you to write into the book and make it your own fun engaging illustrations throughout read in an afternoon or take as long as you like with it this may be pitched as a little guide but goodness me it s packed with wisdom and practical advice that any professional working in our school system will find absolute gold dust when it comes to the sometimes tricky challenge of parental engagement building not only the authors many years of personal experience the guide draws on their own research and that of many other leaders in this field to create a superbly grounded yet optimistic set of ideas tips and reflection points i love how the authors challenge so many orthodoxies such as flipping the concept of the hard to reach family into the hard to reach school throughout the book is an implicit thread that will be familiar to those versed in the principles and power of effective coaching exploring important topics such as building relationships listening and getting the right tone and balance in all communication this is a refreshing accessible and eminently practical guide in an often neglected area that will be invaluable for teachers and leaders at all levels within schools highly recommend andy buck best selling author speaker trainer and coach the present volume proposes different international scientific contributions coming from professionals and researchers interested in teaching learning and social interactions within a range of various educational settings these scientific investigations as well as professional experiences as teachers are interconnected because they are built around the connections between teachers students and parents the chapters offer a plurality of methodologies and approaches dealing with different educational aspects related to adults and children s involvement in various cultures the contributions propose a set of analyses of the relationships between school and family in risk situations and within different dialogical frames the chapters assume specific perspectives in considering the family school interactions and incorporate analytical reflections connected to specific situations such as the covid 19 pandemic and the question of inclusive education the volume intends to foster a new comprehension of the dynamics involving school actors and families each contribution looks at the interconnections between teachers students and parents in order to highlight the centrality of the role of social actors within various educational settings in which the processes of teaching and learning are developed in this sense schools and families are presented as communities continuously engaged in interpersonal relationships and soliciting various processes of appropriation of cultural semiotic professional and emotional resources the volume proposes approaches that are useful to better understand how teachers students and parents can contribute in different and complementary ways to build meaningful frameworks for the processes of teaching and learning
