this book connects the aging woman to the image of god in the work of flannery o connor joyce carol oates alicia ostriker lucille clifton mary szybist and anne babson it introduces a canon of contemporary american women s spiritual literature with the goal of showing how this literature treats aging and spirituality as major connected themes it demonstrates that such literature interacts meaningfully with feminist theology social science research on aging and body image attachment theory and narrative identity theory the book provides an interdisciplinary context for the relationship between aging and spirituality in order to confirm that us women s writing provides unique illustrations of the interconnections between aging and spirituality signaled by other fields this book demonstrates that relationships between the human and divine remain a consistent and valuable feature of contemporary women s literature and that the divine human relationship is under constant literary revision the heart of the traditional legal order of the lake babine nation of north central british columbia is the grand ceremonial feast known as the balhats or potlatch misunderstood and widely condemned as a wasteful display of pride the balhats ceremonies were outlawed by the canadian government in the late nineteenth century throughout the years that followed the lake babine nation struggled to adapt their laws to a changing society while maintaining their cultural identity although the widespread feasting and exchange practices of the balhats have attracted continuous academic and political interest since the nineteenth century little consideration has been given to understanding the legal practices embedded within the ceremonies cis dideen kat the only book ever written about the lake babine nation describes the customary legal practices that constitute the way authors jo anne fiske and betty patrick use historical and contemporary data to create a background against which the changing relations between the lake babine nation and the canadian state are displayed and defined leading to the current era of treaty negotiations and aboriginal self government through interviews with community chiefs and elders oral histories focus groups and archival research fiske and patrick have documented and defined a traditional legal system still very much misunderstood their findings include material not previously published making this book essential reading for those involved in treaty negotiations as well as for those with an interest in aboriginal and state relations generally bangladeshi women recall the sexualized violence of the war of 1971 fought between india and what was then east and west pakistan winner of the 2013 washington state book award in poetry this book examines the lake babine nation in north central british columbia considering its traditional legal order and the way that order determines the people s identity and the nature of their involvement in current treaty negotiations changing relations between the natives and the canadian state have resulted in a new awareness of customary legal orders while such orders are often seen as a process by which the state can accommodate diverse approaches to judicial fairness and social justice they also offer the means by which aboriginal nations can maintain their identity by sustaining a moral order in a viable self defined and self governed community for the lake babine nation this moral order is defined by and lived through the feasting complex known as the bahlats or potlatch system guilty males and proud females is the first complete study on the bengali gajan festival dedicated to dharmaraj a village god in the rarh region of bengal the gajan is the dramatic representation of an hierogamy the marriage of a god and goddess and a recreation of the life cycle of earth as fabrizio m ferrari explains one of the most fascinating aspects of the gajan is its approach to gender the central deity of the gajan is a goddess identified with the earth to please such a goddess male devotees must acknowledge the pain they inflict towards the female world and become ritual women conversely as part of the festival women display their generative power and provoke the jealousy of men by ritually mocking conception and delivery the outcome of the ritual is that their suffering is acknowledged and transformed into power much more than an ethnography of bengali popular religion guilty males and proud females contributes to new studies on gender transformation in the bengal region and will be of interest to scholars of south asian religions folklore and gender studies
