in may 1940 the netherlands were overrun by german armed forces the five day campaign might seem to be a prime example of blitzkrieg which led shortly afterwards to the rapid and unexpected overthrow of france this book based on the newest scholarly research argues that this is too simple a view even though the german assault on the netherlands made use of tanks aircraft and airborne troops it was still a classic campaign against a weak opponent in a theater on the margins of fall gelb in many instances artillery and infantry were the decisive factors and it is debatable whether the bombing of rotterdam can be seen as a precursor to the aerial terror campaigns against civilian populations that marked the later stages the second world war contributors are h amersfoort h w van den doel p h kamphuis p m j de koster c m schulten and j w m schulten

there is a significant movement on internet at present heavily supported by the new atheist movement which denies that jesus christ ever existed some of the claims that are made most notoriously in the first zeitgeist movie are demonstrably false in this book john ostrowick explores the academic mythological textual archaeological scientific and probabilistic arguments for the existence of jesus christ this book argues that although the evidence for christ is slim at best he nonetheless remains the simplest hypothesis to explain the particularly detailed story that we hear in the new testament gospels although we only have one apparently original document referring to jesus the book of mark it is still simplest to assume he existed even if he was merely a man and only did some of the things described in the new testament
